

Navigating Meetups & Online Dating

Over the course of three two-hour sessions you will:

- Explore your preferences, and how you best interact in relationships
- Identify your interests, and activities that you could try to expand your social circles
- Practice talking to, and thinking about the needs and preferences of others
- Review and reflect on the pros & cons of different online platforms such as meeting & dating apps
- Compare notes with others to learn strategies for finding people with preferences that fit with yours
- Discover that you are not alone on the path to becoming the friend and partner you want to be.
